

Vladolf Putler, King of Rattia

The art of war, explained for young adults

Every war starts with an ill-conceive story, because that's what people like to believe

And yes, all the Rats swallow it like a cake, or is it Rat poison?

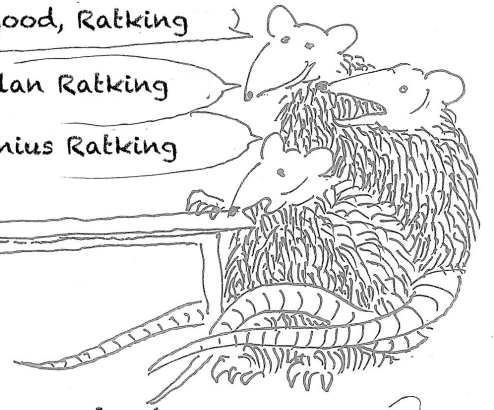

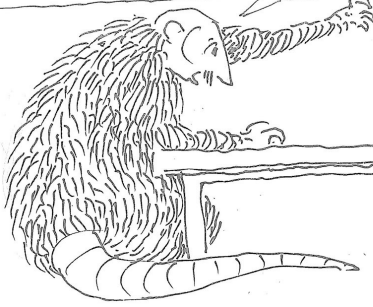

The president of Marmotine, called 'Floating Soul' is dumpfounded, as are all the other Marmots in Marmotine

We're starting a special military operation

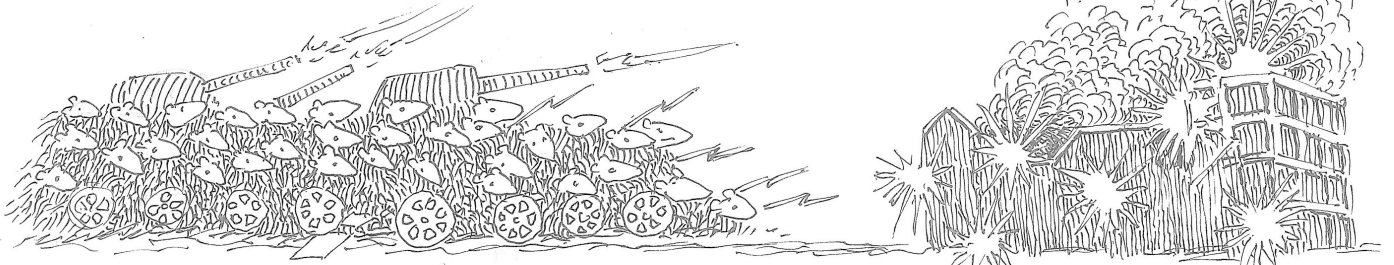

Very good, Ratking

Great plan Ratking

Genius Ratking

Vladolf Putler holds court-martial

So the Rats invade Marmotine, killing, arsonizing, robbing, raping, looting, in short a special military operation...

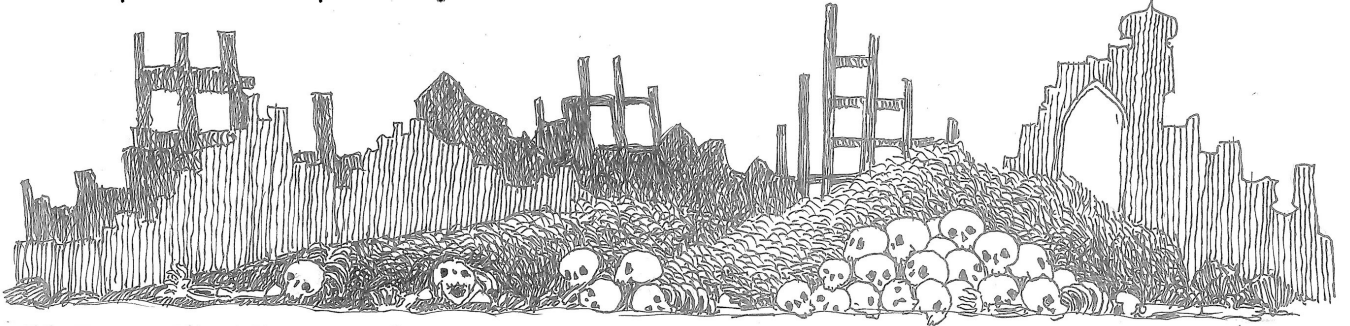

They destroy residential areas, schools, maternity hospitals, day care centers, hospitals, shopping malls, sports fields, theaters, playgrounds...

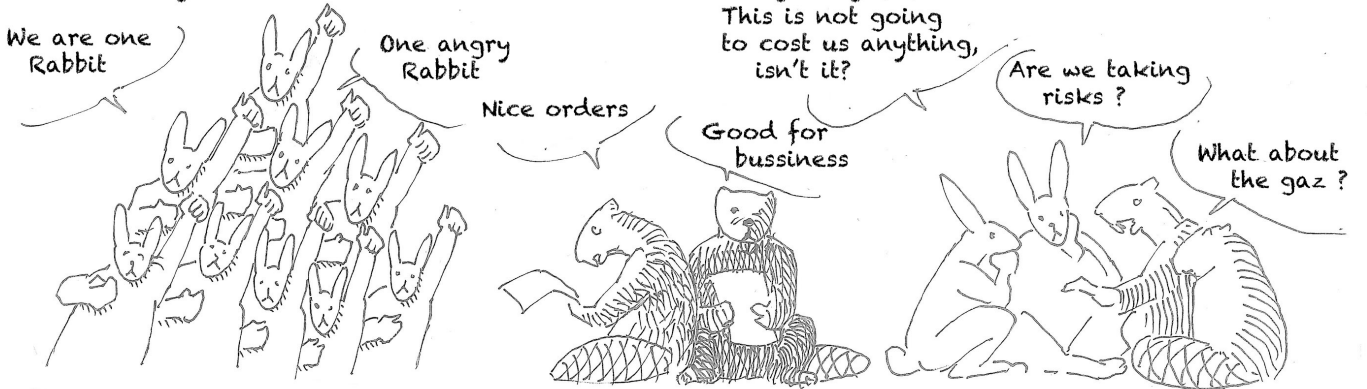

But Floating Soul encourages his Marmots and they resist fiercely/ To the Ratking's shock and anger...

Despite their supremacy, the Rats Lose the battle to the brave Marmots

So they bombard - from a distance - every city into a mass grave...

The world looks on in shock, the Union o Tame Rabbits clenches a fist, and with the United Beaver States they supply arms, despite great concerns

And Rattia gets kicked out of the civilized world (but no one notices any difference)
